Mergers and Acquisitions: Are You Next?

A networking luncheon and education forum for professionals in the PVF Sector

The PVF industry is changing in North America. With consolidation, overseas investment and mergers affecting the sector, it is becoming increasingly difficult to decipher “what is going to happen next.” To help shed some light on this timely subject, the IPVF Council invites you to attend an insightful and valuable networking forum “Mergers and Acquisitions: Are You Next?”, featuring Don Caffee of the PVF Roundtable!

Don Caffee has forty years of experience in the flow control industry. His background includes twenty years in management positions with major valve and instrumentation manufacturers, such as Johnson Controls, Dresser Industries, Xomox Corporation and the Condec Flow Control Group. In 1980 he founded ValPers, Inc., a multi-service company for the flow control industry. Don’s domestic and international experience includes developing and implementing business plans, designing and implementing marketing and sales programs, and managing the total sales and marketing effort. He has also overseen mergers and acquisitions, joint ventures, and start-up and turn-around situations. Don has a BA degree from the University of Alabama.
